VQC Designs, LLC v. Pierce

9. VIOLATION OF BOROUGH CODE

Intervenor lastly argued that the Award must be vacated because its implementation will require the Borough to enact a retroactive ordinance in contravention of the Borough Code. This is the same argument that the Borough raised earlier which is that the Grievant retired outside the window in December 2007, and that to include him within a retirement window will require that the Board enact a retroactive ordinance, which it is prohibited from doing. As discussed above, the Arbitrator made a rational finding supported by the record that the Grievant would have retired within the window had he not been improperly excluded from it. The Arbitrator's ruling does not require that the Borough retroactively enact an ordinance but merely enforces the terms of the already existing CBA.

Accordingly, I denied the Petition to Vacate.

VQC Designs, LLC v. Pierce

Contracts — Breach — Jurisdiction — Due Process — Minimum Contacts — Website Presence.

Communicating over the internet and by email and telephone, the Plaintiff, a Harrisburg company, contracted with Defendant, doing business from his Florida residence, to provide website services (software installation) to one of Plaintiff's clients. Several progress payments were then made electronically via PayPal, but the Defendant could not complete the project, which forced Plaintiff to hire another entity. When Plaintiff filed a civil action in Pennsylvania, the Defendant objected, inter alia, on the basis of lack of personal jurisdiction.

1. Assertion of personal jurisdiction over out-of-state defendants must comport with due process requirements. There must exist sufficient "minimum contacts" between the defendant and the forum state such that assertion of personal jurisdiction does not offend "traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice." Kubik v. Letteri, 614 A.2d 1110, 1114 (Pa. 1992). In order to establish sufficient minimum contacts, a defendant must have been able to "reasonably anticipate" being haled into court in the forum state. Burger King Corp. v. Rudzewica, 471 U.S. 462, 474 (1985). In determining if one can reasonably anticipate being haled into court, courts have placed emphasis on the communications between the parties and on who initiated contact. Eastern Continuous Forms, Inc. v. Island Business Forms, Inc., 513 A.2d 466, 469 (Pa. Super. 1986).

VQC Designs, LLC v. Pierce

2. Where an out-of-state defendant enters into a single transaction with a Pennsylvania resident and no contacts exist other than telephone and written communications, personal jurisdiction does not exist. Hall-Woolford Tank Co., Inc. v. R. F. Kilns, Inc., 698 A.2d 80, 82 (Pa. Super. 1997).

3. A passive website that does little more than make information available to those who are interested in it is not grounds for exercise of personal jurisdiction. Efford v. The Jockey Club, 796 A.2d 370 (Pa. Super. 2002), citing Zippo Manufacturing Company v. Zippo.com, Inc., 952 F. Supp. 1119, at 1124 (W.D. Pa. 1997).

Defendant's Preliminary Objection. C.P., Dau. Co., No. 2010 CV 15400 CV. Objection sustained.

Anthony T. McBeth, for Plaintiff.

Michael E. Adler, for Defendant.

TURGEON, J., July 11, 2011. – Defendant Philip Pierce, a Florida resident, has filed preliminary objections to Plaintiff's Complaint primarily challenging this court's personal jurisdiction over him and seeking dismissal of Plaintiff's Amended Complaint. For the reasons set forth below, Defendant's objection for lack of personal jurisdiction is sustained.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The facts asserted in Plaintiff's Amended Complaint, viewed in the light most favorable to Plaintiff, as the non-moving party, are as follows: Sometime on or prior to September 16, 2009, Plaintiff VQC Designs, a Pennsylvania limited of liability company with its principal office in Harrisburg, posted one or more advertisements on Craigslist seeking "specialized compensated assistance" from a computer programmer for programming and web design services. (Am. Complaint ¶¶ 4, 7, Exbt. A) These initial advertisements indicated that Plaintiff was located in Harrisburg.

On September 16, 2009, Defendant Pierce, trading as Merlin A. I. Soft, responded to the job offer by sending an email to the Craigslist email address included in Plaintiff's solicitation. (Am. Complaint, Exbt. A) Defendant's email informed Plaintiff of his qualifications as a web and desktop developer and invited Plaintiff to review his portfolio and web résumé on his business website, to which Defendant included a link. Id. Within an hour thereof, Vinh Chau, the proprietor of VQC Designs, emailed his business email address to Defendant. Id. A few minutes later, Pierce responded thanking Chau and listing three references. Id. According to the parties' next email communication, they had a phone conversation during which they agreed to the terms of a contract. (Am. Complaint, Exbt. B) The parties' next email, sent by Plaintiff later in the evening on September 16, memorialized the terms of their conversation. Plaintiff indicated a project deadline of October 9, 2009, compensation terms and the project requirements and tasks, which consisted chiefly of Defendant setting up, configuring and integrating the DotNetNuke web content management platform (designed to build web-sites and web applications) onto the website of one of Plaintiff's clients, Mid Atlantic BX. Id. Defendant was given authority by Plaintiff to remotely access the client's web server and/or private network in order to perform the contracted services. Id.

On September 17 and 18, 2009, as part of their contractual relationship, each party signed a Confidentiality Agreement created by Plaintiff in which Defendant agreed to not disclose any information he obtained while working on the project. (Am. Complaint, Exbt. C) The Confidentiality Agreement further specified that "[a]ll legal matters relating to this agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, County of Dauphin, regardless of its conflict of laws provision." Id.

According to the allegations, Defendant updated Plaintiff a number of times by email as to the number of hours he worked from his Florida residence and requested electronic payment via PayPal. (Am. Complaint ¶ 10, Exbts. D, E) Plaintiff later made some payments to Defendant using that method. (Am. Complaint, ¶ 10) One such email shows that between September 17 and October 2, 2009, Defendant claims to have worked on the project a total of 59 hours over eight days. (Am. Complaint Exbt. E) On October 2, 2009, Plaintiff sent Defendant an email seeking an update on the project's progress. (Am. Complaint Exbt. E) The Defendant responded by email that same day informing Plaintiff of his current progress (including hours worked) and of technical difficulties he was having which were preventing him from completing the project. Id. Defendant Pierce continued to perform work for Plaintiff through October for which Plaintiff paid him $4,702.50. (Am. Complaint ¶ 12) Sometime in November 2009, Defendant ceased working and Plaintiff was forced to hire another entity, for which Plaintiff has paid or will be paying $13,447 to finish the required work. (Am. Complaint ¶ 13, 14)

In its Amended Complaint, Plaintiff brings claims for breach of contract, negligence and unjust enrichment due to Defendant's failure to complete the project. Plaintiff seeks judgment of $18,149, which includes the $4,702 he electronically paid to Defendant and $13,447 Plaintiff paid to the third party. Defendant filed preliminary objections to the Amended Complaint moving to dismiss it on the bases of lack of personal jurisdiction and improper venue. Defendant also moves to dismiss Plaintiff's negligence claim on the bases of the gist of the action and economic loss doctrines. Finally, Defendant moves to dismiss Plaintiff's breach of contract claim on the bases of legal insufficiency and lack of specificity. This court agrees that there is a lack of personal jurisdiction over the Defendant and will dismiss the Amended Complaint for that reason. As such, this court will not address the remaining objections.

LEGAL DISCUSSION

A question of personal jurisdiction is properly raised by preliminary objection. Pa. R.C.P. 1028(a)(1), 42 Pa. C.S.A. "When preliminary objections, if sustained, would result in the dismissal of an action, such objections should be sustained only in the clearest of cases." Hall-Woolford Tank Co. Inc. v. R. F. Kilns, Inc., 698 A.2d 80, 82 (Pa. Super. 1997) (citing King v. Detroit Coal Co., 682 A.2d 313, 314 (Pa. Super. 1996)). Moreover, because the burden rests upon the party challenging the court's exercise of jurisdiction, the court must consider the evidence in the light most favorable to the non-moving party. Id. Once the movant has supported its jurisdictional objection, however, the burden shifts to the party asserting jurisdiction to prove that there is statutory and constitutional support for the court's exercise of personal jurisdiction. Id. (citing McCall v. Formu-3 International, Inc., 650 A.2d 903, 904 (Pa. Super. 1994) and Derman v. Wilair Services, Inc., 590 A.2d 317, 319 (Pa. Super. 1991), appeal denied, 600 A.2d 537).

Pennsylvania courts may exercise two types of jurisdiction over out-of-state defendants. The first type is specific personal jurisdiction which is set forth in Pennsylvania's long-arm statute. 42 Pa. C.S.A. § 5322. The second type is general personal jurisdiction which deals only with the general contacts the defendant has with the forum state. 42 Pa. C.S.A. § 5301. Plaintiff in this case has asserted both bases for jurisdiction in his brief.

Specific jurisdiction is "based upon the specific acts of the defendant which gave rise to the cause of action." McCall v. Formu-3 International, Inc. at 904. Satisfaction of the long-arm statute, however, is not alone sufficient to exercise jurisdiction over non-resident defendants. Id. Specific jurisdiction must comport with the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment. Id. Specific personal jurisdiction occurs under Pennsylvania's long-arm statute when one is "transacting business" within the state. 42 Pa. C.S.A. §5322(a)(1). While plaintiff has not identified which basis for specific personal jurisdiction he is asserting under the long-arm statute, it appears one basis does exist; “[c]ausing harm or tortious injury in this Commonwealth by an act or omission outside this Commonwealth.”¹ 42 Pa. C.S.A. § 5322(a)(4).

Assuming Plaintiff has sufficiently supported a long-arm statute basis for jurisdiction, assertion of jurisdiction must comport with due process requirements. The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has held that the flexible approach set forth by the U.S. Supreme Court in Burger King Corp. v. Rudzewica, 476 U.S. 462 (1985), be used when determining if due process has been satisfied. Kubik v. Lettri, 614 A.2d 1110, 1114 (Pa. 1992). Under Burger King, there must exist sufficient “minimum contacts” between the defendant and the forum state such that the assertion of personal jurisdiction not offend “traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.” Id. at 1114 (citing Burger King).

In order to establish sufficient minimum contacts, a defendant must have been able to “reasonably anticipate” being haled into court in the forum state. Burger King Corp. at 474. “Critical to the analysis of whether a defendant should reasonably anticipate being haled into court in the forum state is the determination that the defendant purposefully directed his activities at residents of the forum and purposefully availed himself of the privilege of conducting activities within the forum state, thus invoking the benefits and protection of its laws.” Kubik, 614 A.2d at 1114.

In determining if one can reasonably anticipate being haled into court, courts have placed emphasis on the communications between the parties and on who initiated contact. Eastern Continuous Forms, Inc. v. Island Business Forms, Inc., 513 A.2d 466, 469 (1986). A finding of purposeful availment is influenced by the presence of economic impacts on the forum state as well as by the parties’ relationship. Id. at 469. See also, Mickleburgh Machinery Co., Inc. v. Pacific Economic Development Co., 738 F.Supp. 159, 162 (E.D. Pa. 1990). “Random, fortuitous and attenuated contacts cannot reasonably notify a party that it may be called to defend itself in a foreign forum and, thus, cannot support the exercise of personal jurisdiction.” Hall-Woolford at 82.

“It is well settled that an individual’s contract with an out-of-state party alone cannot automatically establish sufficient minimum contacts in the other party’s home forum.” Hall-Woolford at 83 (citing Kubik v. Letteri at 1114). “Rather, the totality of the parties’ dealings, including

1. The harm contemplated by this section includes economic harm. Hall-Woolford, 698 A.2d at 84 n. 1.

the contract negotiations, contemplated future consequences of the contract, and actual course of dealing must be evaluated in order to determine whether the foreign defendant is subject to suit in the plaintiff's chosen forum." Id.

Plaintiff first argues that personal jurisdiction exists based upon the specific contacts he made with Defendant in this action. Plaintiff notes that Defendant directly solicited Plaintiff to perform software and programming work for Plaintiff, that Defendant provided Plaintiff his résumé and references knowing the work would be performed for an entity headquartered in Pennsylvania and that Defendant was in continuous communication with Plaintiff while working under the contract. Plaintiff argues these facts show Defendant purposefully availed himself of the privilege of conducting business in Pennsylvania.

Our courts have held, however, that where an out-of-state defendant enters into a single transaction with a Pennsylvania resident and no contacts exist other than telephone and written communications, personal jurisdiction does not exist. Hall-Woolford, supra. In Hall-Woolford, the Superior Court found personal jurisdiction lacking over the out-of-state defendant. There, the plaintiff, a Pennsylvania corporation, contracted with a New York corporation to dry wood plaintiff was purchasing in Florida. The defendant damaged the wood at its New York facility and the plaintiff brought a Pennsylvania action. The plaintiff had asserted there existed sufficient contacts between the parties, noting that their contract was for a unique service, the wood was to be ultimately delivered to Pennsylvania, defendant was not to be paid until after delivery, the defendant had agreed to perform the service after reviewing a credit report prepared by a Pennsylvania bank and there were a number of inter-state mail and telephone communications between the parties. Id. at 83. The superior court concluded these contracts were too attenuated to support personal jurisdiction noting that "by merely entering into a contract with a Pennsylvania corporation, making several follow-up telephone calls and sending a payment invoice, it cannot be said that [defendant] purposefully availed itself of our state's benefits and protections such that it could reasonably anticipate being called to defend itself in our courts. If contacts such as these were the benchmark for jurisdiction, our courts would require foreign defendants to defend themselves in Pennsylvania based upon minimal, rather than minimum, contacts." Id. at 84. See also, Nutrition Management Services Co. v. Hinchcliff, 926 A.2d 531 (Pa. Super. 2007) (the fact that the out-of-state defendants made telephone calls and sent correspondence to plaintiff in Pennsylvania "does not lead to the conclusion that they purposefully availed themselves of the privileges and benefits of our Commonwealth to the extent that they should have anticipated having to defend a lawsuit in Pennsylvania”); Fidelity Leasing v. Limestone Co. Bd. of Education, 758 A.2d 1207, 1212 (Pa. Super. 2000) (out-of-state defendant’s contacts with Pennsylvania corporation did not create sufficient minimum forum contacts to sustain trial court’s jurisdiction where the contacts “merely consisted of an agreement, payments or a payment invoice, and several follow-up communications”) and Lynch v. New Jersey Auto. Full Ins. Underwriting Ass’n, 762 F. Supp. 101, 104 (E.D. Pa. 1991) (“[t]he placing of telephone calls or the sending of letters into the forum by a party to a contract is not sufficient”).

The contacts in this case are of similar quality and quantity as were those in Hall-Woolford: the parties entered into a single contract, made several follow-up communications (via email and phone) and exchanged of a few invoices and payments. As in Hall-Woolford, the parties’ contract involved the out-of-state defendant performing a single service of limited scope and duration. The record before this court otherwise reveals no evidence that Defendant entered the Commonwealth to negotiate the contract or performed any part of his contractual duties in Pennsylvania. Instead, the record showed Defendant provided all services from his home in Florida, where his company, Merlin AI. Soft, was organized. The nature of Defendant’s services involved him remotely accessing Plaintiff’s client’s computer system and installing the requested software. Furthermore, there is no evidence in the record that Defendant has any property, bank accounts or other clients in Pennsylvania, or that he sells any products or advertises in the Commonwealth.

Plaintiff stresses that because Defendant made the initial contact with Plaintiff he availed himself of the Commonwealth’s benefits and protections. While Defendant did make the initial personal contact as between the parties, he did so only in response to Plaintiff’s broadly disseminated Internet advertisement on Craigslist. Plaintiff also argues that the parties Confidentiality Agreement provides a basis for personal jurisdiction. The terms of that Agreement set forth a choice of law provision requiring application of Pennsylvania law in a Dauphin County venue for litigation of issues arising from the Agreement. As noted above, that Agreement was entered in order to ensure that Defendant would not disseminate any information he learned while performing the software installation in Plaintiff’s client’s computer system. That Agreement is of limited relevancy to this court’s minimum contacts analysis whereby none of the claims made by Plaintiff in this action invoke application of the Agreement, including of its venue provision.

VQC Designs, LLC v. Pierce

Plaintiff cites Kenneth H. Oaks, Ltd. v. Josephson for the proposition that specific personal jurisdiction over Defendant exists in this case. 568 A.2d 215 (Pa. Super. 1989). In Kenneth H. Oaks, the defendant, a New Jersey advertising agency, initially contracted with the plaintiff, a Pennsylvania commercial printing company, to supply it with printed catalogs. The parties later extended the scope of their contract to include printing services for postcard inserts. Id. at 215. After plaintiff delivered the inserts to the New Jersey defendant, defendant discovered some of the copy was missing and notified plaintiff of the cost of correcting the errors. Plaintiff made the corrections and billed defendant, who refused payment, prompting plaintiff to file an action in Pennsylvania. Id. The lower court dismissed plaintiff's complaint for lack of personal jurisdiction over the New Jersey defendant. On appeal, the Superior Court reversed, finding as follows:

In the instant case, the facts, viewed in the light most favorable to the non-moving party, show that The Josephson Company [of N.J.] solicited quotations from Oaks [of Pa.] for the printing work for which the parties eventually contracted. In connection with the contract, Josephson mailed and "faxed" bid specifications to Oaks at its place of business in Northhampton County, Pennsylvania. Oaks prepared its bid quotation in Pennsylvania in response to Josephson's solicitation, and purchase orders by Josephson were mailed to Oaks in Pennsylvania. Numerous telephone calls between the parties' offices in Pennsylvania and New Jersey were exchanged, and an employee of Josephson visited the Oaks plant in Pennsylvania on at least one occasion to review proofs in connection with the parties' contract. All of the work on the contract was performed in Pennsylvania. In our view, these facts are sufficient to establish personal jurisdiction of appellee in the Pennsylvania courts. [Josephson's] initiation of contact with [Oaks] which eventually yielded a contract between the parties, the continuing telephone and mail communication between them, and [Josephson's] visit to Pennsylvania to review the work in progress, all point to the conclusion that [Josephson] "purposefully availed" itself of the privilege of conducting its business activities within Pennsylvania. [Josephson's] contacts with the forum were thus sufficient to meet the due process "minimum contacts" test.

VQC Designs, LLC v. Pierce

In addition, the exercise of personal jurisdiction over [Oaks] would not offend any notions of “fair play and substantial justice.” [Oaks] is a Pennsylvania corporation with whom [Josephson] initiated contact in order to conduct business in the form of a contract to be performed in Pennsylvania. [Josephson] also maintained telephone and mail contact with [Oaks] at its Pennsylvania office, and visited Pennsylvania in order to monitor and assess the progress on its work. Such circumstances do not lead us to the conclusion that [Josephson] contacts with Pennsylvania were “attenuated.” Rather, they were purposeful and continuous enough such that appellee could reasonably have anticipated “being haled into court” here. ...

Id. at 217-218.

Kenneth H. Oaks is readily distinguishable from this case on two important points. First, in that case, all of the work contemplated under the contract was to be performed in Pennsylvania. Second, during performance of the contract, a representative from the out-of-state defendant visited plaintiff’s Pennsylvania location. In contrast, none of the work to be performed by Defendant Pierce here was contemplated to occur in Pennsylvania. Instead, the parties contemplated that Defendant, from his Florida residence, would remotely access the client’s computer system to perform the work. In addition, neither Defendant nor any of his agents or representatives visited Pennsylvania to perform any part of the contract or to otherwise conduct any business with Plaintiff. Furthermore, it appears that the communications between the parties in that case were of a more continuous nature than were the communications in this case, which consisted of a handful of emails and a single phone conversation. Finally, unlike in Kenneth H. Oaks, it was the Pennsylvania Plaintiff here who initiated the chain of events which resulted the business relationship between the parties by placing an advertisement over the Internet, to which Defendant responded.

Plaintiff also asserts that general personal jurisdiction exists over Defendant due to his presence in Pennsylvania via his website. In Efford v. The Jockey Club, our Superior Court was faced for the first time with the question of assessing personal jurisdiction over an out-of-state defendant based upon its Internet or website accessibility to Pennsylvania residents. 796 A.2d 370 (Pa. Super. 2002). The Efford court, guided by federal court decisions from the Third Circuit addressing the relationship between personal jurisdiction and foreign Internet websites, adopted a sliding scale analysis for personal jurisdiction (both personal and general) based largely on the degree and type of interactivity on the website. The Court cited Zippo Manufacturing Company v. Zippo.com, Inc., 952 F.Supp. 1119 (W.D. Pa. 1997), which articulated this sliding scale, as follows:

The likelihood that personal jurisdiction can be constitutionally exercised is directly proportionate to the nature and quality of commercial activity that an entity conducts over the internet. This sliding scale is consistent with well-developed personal jurisdiction principles. At one end of the spectrum are situations where a defendant clearly does business over the internet. If the defendant enters into contracts with residents of a foreign jurisdiction that involved the knowing and repeated transmission of computer files over the internet, personal jurisdiction is proper. At the opposite end are situations where a defendant has simply posted information on an internet website which is accessible to users in foreign jurisdictions. A passive website that does little more than make information available to those who are interested in it is not grounds for exercise of personal jurisdiction. The middle ground is occupied by interactive websites where a user can exchange information with a host computer. In these cases, the exercise of jurisdiction is determined by examining the level of interactivity and commercial nature of the exchange of information that occurs on the website.

Id. at 324 (quoting Zippo at 1124) (citations omitted).

The record in this case as to Defendant's Internet presence is limited. Defendant's website is mentioned only a single time in the record, whereby Defendant, in his initial email response to Plaintiff's Craigslist advertisement, informed Plaintiff of his computer expertise and directed Plaintiff to review his portfolio and résumé at his website, www.PhilipPierceDeveloper.com. (Am. Complaint, Exbt. A) There are no other facts in the record showing that the website played any role whatsoever in promoting the formation of the parties' contract or in the performance of the terms of the contract. As such, Defendant's mere posting of information on his website sets this case firmly at the end of the spectrum revealing a passive Internet presence. "A passive website that does little more than make information available to those who are interested in it is not grounds for exercise of personal jurisdiction.” Id. Compare, Efford (general personal jurisdiction did not exist over the foreign defendant, where its Internet website held the middle ground on the sliding scale of interactivity, because, even though a user could exchange information with the host computer, the defendant did not otherwise enter into contracts with Pennsylvania residents or send to Pennsylvania residents repeated and knowing transmission of information) and Mar-Eco, Inc. v. T & R and Sons Towing and Recovery, Inc., 837 A.2d 512 (Pa. Super. 2003) (general personal jurisdiction existed over the foreign defendant, where its Internet website held the middle ground on the sliding scale, since defendant’s website amounted to a virtual car dealership within which a customer could conduct almost every activity that could have been conducted in person at the dealership and where the defendant regularly conducted business in Pennsylvania over its website).

Because Plaintiff has failed to allege other traditional grounds for general jurisdiction – that Defendant is incorporated in Pennsylvania, maintains offices here, has agents or employees in Pennsylvania, pays taxes in the Commonwealth, is registered with the Commonwealth to conduct business in Pennsylvania and/or owns or leases property here – there exist no bases for finding general personal jurisdiction over Defendant. As such, I enter the following:

ORDER

AND NOW, this 11th day of July, 2011, Defendant Philip Pierce’s Preliminary Objection to the Plaintiff’s Amended Complaint arguing lack of personal jurisdiction over him is hereby SUSTAINED and the Amended Complaint is dismissed, with prejudice.

You may have legal rights to prevent the Sheriff's Sale and the loss of your property. In order to exercise those rights, prompt action on your part is necessary. A lawyer may be able to help you.

You may have the right to prevent or delay the Sheriff's Sale by filing, before the sale occurs, a petition to open or strike the judgment or a petition to stay the execution.

If the judgment was entered because you did not file with the Court any defense or objection you might have within twenty (20) days after service of the Complaint for Mortgage Foreclosure and Notice to Defend, you may have the right to have the judgment opened if you promptly file a petition with the Court alleging a valid defense and a reasonable excuse for failing to file the defense on time. If the judgment is opened, the Sheriff's Sale would ordinarily be delayed pending a trial of the issue of whether the Plaintiff has a valid claim for foreclose the Mortgage.

You may also have the right to have the judgment stricken if the Sheriff has not made a valid return of service of the Complaint and Notice to Defend or if the judgment was entered before twenty (20) days after service or in certain other events. To exercise this right, you would have to file a petition to strike the judgment.

You may also have the right to petition the Court to stay or delay the execution and the Sheriff's Sale if you can show a defect in the Writ of Execution or service or demonstrate any other legal or equitable right.

You may also have the right to have the Sheriff's Sale set aside if the property is sold for a grossly inadequate price or if there are defects in the Sheriff's Sale. To exercise this right, you should file a petition with the Court after the sale and before the Sheriff has delivered his Deed to the property. The Sheriff will deliver the Deed if no petition to set aside the sale is filed within ten (10) days from the date when the Schedule of Distribution is filed in the Office of the Sheriff.

THIS FIRM IS A DEBT COLLECTOR ATTEMPTING TO COLLECT A DEBT. ANY INFORMATION WE OBTAIN WILL BE USED FOR THAT PURPOSE. IF YOU HAVE PREVIOUSLY RECEIVED A DISCHARGE IN BANKRUPTCY, THIS CORRESPONDENCE IS NOT AND SHOULD NOT BE CONSTRUED TO BE AN ATTEMPT TO COLLECT A DEBT, BUT ONLY ENFORCEMENT OF A LIEN AGAINST PROPERTY.

DAUPHIN COUNTY COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

As a service to members of the Dauphin County Bar Association, a brief synopsis of verdicts from each civil trial term will be printed.

Summary of Verdicts from the June 2011 Civil Jury Term.

The Judges have completed the June 2011 civil jury term. Seven civil cases reached verdict during the June civil term and two criminal cases reached verdict during the civil term. One civil case reached verdict during the May Criminal Term. The summaries are as follows:

JEANNE JACOBS, ADMINISTRATRIX OF THE ESTATE OF BARRY COLTERYAHN v. GLENN O. HAWBAKER, INC. (2008 CV 10864)

Plaintiff-decedent's estate brought this cause of action against the Defendant-company Penn DOT contracted to complete certain road projects on Interstate Route 80, including exit ramps. Decedent's fatal motorcycle accident occurred on an exit ramp near Clarion, PA where defendant-company admittedly failed to place required sign markers, "channelizers," on the left-hand edge of the exit ramp, which roadway also had an unmarked 4" drop off to the dirt shoulder. Just prior to the re-macadamed portion was a "milled-out" section of the exit roadway, with a 1-3/4" drop. There were no warning signs of the "milled" area. There were no signs that stated "Road Work Ahead," "Dip," "Rough Road Ahead," "Uneven Payment," "Low Shoulder," etc.

Penn Dot's traffic-control specialist earlier that week had issued a report that the Defendant contractor's "Rough Road" and other signs needed to be taken down because it was on a "short-term sign support" and that the signs could stay only if Defendant put them on "long-term support stands," (weighted-down). It also notified Defendant that the "channelizers" signs were not set up properly. The contractor removed the "Rough Road" sign prior to the day of the decedent's fatal accident.

The Plaintiff claimed Defendant-company was negligent for failing to have proper signage and during closing argument, Defendant's counsel admitted negligence.

Defendant claimed Plaintiff was not only contributory negligent, but "reckless," based upon a broken vodka bottle in his saddlebag, his history of alcoholism, the odor of alcohol during CPR and most importantly, two separate blood tests, after death of .277 and .287 BAC (whole blood from the coroner and serum from the hospital, respectively). Plaintiff contested the accuracy of the tests and contested that the decedent was under the influence of alcohol to the extent he was intoxicated.

On the afternoon of the accident, decedent made nine (9) telephone calls during the entire six-hour trip, stopping at various points along the way to stretch his legs, eat, get out of the rain, etc. During all of those calls he seemed upbeat, spoke with clarity and exhibited no signs of intoxication.

MISCELLANEOUS SECTION

Plaintiff's expert testified that the hospital blood test may not have been accurate because the decedent had no bleeding at the scene, and a low hematocrit level (20 as opposed to average of 40) indicating a lot of internal bleeding, a probable ruptured liver, spleen, intestines, stomach. If the stomach ruptured, the stomach contents would have gone out into the peritoneum, contaminating the actual alcohol levels in the decedent's blood system. He also pointed out that decedent had an extensive amount of CPR, pushing on his chest heavily for a long time, which may have pushed alcohol from his stomach, inflating the BAC level in his pericardial fluid, which blood is not as reliable as heart blood specimens. The death certificate improperly indicated decedent's cause of death was a cervical fracture, however, the records showed the defendant had no cervical fracture.

The Defendant also contested the Coroner's blood test results because the blood specimen "kit" used included no antiseptic and also 13 days passed from collection to testing during which time fermentation can occur in a non-preserved specimen. Defendant's expert opined those tests are not as reliable in post-mortem examinations.

The jury found Defendant negligent, and that Defendant's negligence was a factual cause of the decedent's fatal accident. However, they also then found the Plaintiff was "reckless," which also was a factual cause of his fatal accident, which, under the law, barred the Plaintiff from any recovery.

RHONDA SUE MAGILL v. ROBERT WOLF, M.D. (2008 CV 12174)

Defendant Dr. Wolfe provided Plaintiff Magill treatment for basal cell carcinoma on Plaintiff's nose. Defendant performed an exisional biopsy in September 2001 to remove a lesion from the left side of Plaintiff's nose. The pathology report showed that a tumor was present at the exisional margins. Eighteen months later, Plaintiff returned to see Defendant because a new bump appeared at the same location. Defendant performed a biopsy and the tumor cells were only on the skin's surface. Plaintiff returned to Defendant in July 2006. The tumor had recurred on the left side of the nose and Defendant performed electrosurgical dissection. Defendant later left his practice and when Plaintiff returned, Dr. Jeffrey Pokomy referred Plaintiff to Geisinger Medical Center for a MOHS procedure/surgery for basal cell carcinoma. A second surgery was performed a year later for a recurrence.

CAROL BRAME AND MICHAEL BRAME, INDIVIDUALLY AND AS PARENTS AND NATURAL GUARDIANS OF SEAN MICHAEL BRAME, A MINOR v. AMY BONNEAU, M.D., DAROWISH & ASSOCIATES, P.C., HARRY P. WEBER, M.D. AND JONES, DALEY, COLDREN ASSOCIATES (2007 CV 3323)

This is a medical malpractice case. Minor Plaintiff Sean Brame was nine years old when he was kicked in the ankle. His parents took him to the doctor the next day because he could not walk on his right foot. Dr. Weber took x-rays but did not record vital signs, or perform any passive range of motion tests. He did not ask Sean if he could walk or bear weight on his ankle. Sean had shaking chills and sweats during his x-rays. Weber said the flu was going around when asked about this. X-rays were interpreted as negative and Sean was sent home. They were told to use rest, ice, compression, elevation and ibuprofen. The next day, Sean's mother called the Pediatric Call Center and told them that Sean was still having pain which was moving up his leg. She also told them that he was not weight bearing and had a fever with diarrhea. The receptionist told Carol that she had discussed this matter with Dr. Bonneau who said that Sean should continue with the Ibuprofen, rest, bland diet and notify the doctor on Monday. Sean's mother was not told what to look for if his condition worsened. Sean went to bed around 11:00 p.m. that evening and woke up several hours later to vomit. He was unable to walk. His parents took him to the emergency room since he had a fever and had difficulty breathing. The diagnosis was septic shock. His leg was swollen from his toes to above his knee and his lips were purple. He was transferred to Hershey Medical Center around 6:00 a.m. Sean developed major health issues and was ventilated. He also had both his legs amputated below the knee and hand extremity amputations.

Additionally, Defendant was accused of access device fraud for allegedly attempting to use ATM cards of one or more of the victims. COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA v. RENEE HENNING (919 CR 2011)

The Commonwealth accused Defendant of hindering the apprehension of the Defendant's boyfriend and father of her three children. The prosecution's testimony established that a constable had been unsuccessful in finding the Defendant's boyfriend on whom he was attempting to serve summary warrants. The constable had stopped at the Defendant's home and other places attempting to locate the fugitive. On a tip, he learned that Defendant's boyfriend was staying at his sister's home in Williamstown and went there in the early morning hours in early December and observed Defendant leaving the residence. When questioned, Defendant told him that she did not know where her boyfriend was. Shortly thereafter, the fugitive's sister permitted a search of the residence and the fugitive was located in a crawl space above his sister's third floor bedroom. After deliberation, the jury found the Defendant not guilty of the single count of hindering apprehension.
