Commonwealth v. Miller*Crimes and criminal procedure — Evidence — Hearsay — Prior conviction — Prosecutorial misconduct — Mistrial — Double jeopardy.

The Commonwealth appealed the Court's order excluding evidence of the Defendant's prior conviction, which was elicited by the district attorney on redirect examination of a police officer and resulted in a mistrial. Then the Defendant appealed the Court's subsequent refusal to dismiss the case on double jeopardy grounds. However, the Court could not, without a clear, precedential appellate court decision contrary to the position espoused by the Commonwealth, conclude that the district attorney's conduct amounted to the blatant and bad faith prosecutorial misconduct meriting dismissal of the criminal charges against the Defendant.

1. Where a defendant does not testify, his or her credibility is not at issue and there is no basis for allowance of any evidence to demonstrate his or her unreliability as a witness. Commonwealth v. Smith, 552 A.2d 710, 712 (Pa. Super. 1989). Where a witness is also the defendant in a criminal trial, additional protections attach when evidence of prior convictions is offered to impeach. Id.

2. The mere reference to an out-of-court denial does not constitute the kind of hearsay statement which places the defendant's credibility in issue and which, then, allows the attack on his credibility as Pennsylvania Rule of Evidence 806 appears to provide.

3. There are two types of prosecutorial misconduct which trigger double jeopardy and bar retrial of the defendant. First, the double jeopardy clause of the Pennsylvania Constitution prohibits retrial of a defendant when the conduct of the prosecutor is intentionally undertaken to prejudice the defendant to the point of denial of a fair trial. Commonwealth v. Wood, 803 A.2d 217, 220-21 (Pa. Super. 2002). Second, retrial is also prohibited when the prosecutorial misconduct is intended to provoke the defendant into moving for a mistrial. Id.

Commonwealth v. Miller

Francis T. Chardo III, for the Commonwealth*Royce L. Morris*, for Defendant

BRATTON, J., June 29, 2006. –

MEMORANDUM OPINION
PURSUANT TO Pa.R.A.P. 1925(A)

Defendant, Troy David Miller, has appealed this Court's Order of April 24, 2006, which denied Defendant's Motion to Dismiss Criminal Information Pursuant to Double Jeopardy. The Commonwealth has appealed this Court's Order of February 7, 2006, which excluded evidence proffered by the Commonwealth of prior crimen falsi convictions of Defendant following the introduction of a hearsay statement made by Defendant.¹ We file the within memorandum, pursuant to Pa.R.A.P. 1925(a), as to both pending appeals.

Jury trial of the various charges, including arson and criminal mischief, commenced on February 6, 2006. During cross-examination of the first Commonwealth witness, the initial investigating police officer, counsel for Defendant asked the testifying officer, without objection by the prosecution, if Defendant had denied any involvement in the arson, to which the witness answered that Defendant had in fact denied any involvement. On re-direct examination, the prosecuting attorney then asked the same officer if he was aware, during his conversation with Defendant, that the Defendant had a prior conviction for burglary.

Upon defense counsel's objection, the district attorney argued that the prior conviction could be adduced and was permitted under Pennsylvania Rule of Evidence 806. The Court sustained the defense objection and granted a mistrial upon Defendant's motion. The Commonwealth's sole issue on appeal is whether the Court erred in its decision to exclude the evidence of, and questioning concerning, Defendant's prior conviction.

Pennsylvania Rule of Evidence 806 states that “[w]hen a hearsay statement has been admitted in evidence, the credibility of the declarant may be attacked, and if attacked may be supported, by any evidence which would be admissible for those purposes if declarant had testified as a witness.” Pennsylvania Rule of Evidence 609(a) states that “[f]or the purposes of attacking the credibility of any witness, evidence that the witness has been convicted of a crime, whether by verdict or by plea of guilty or nolo contendere, shall be admitted if it involved dishonesty or false statement.”²

We have searched diligently but have been unable to find an appellate case directly on point with the circumstances of this case. We find some instructive reasoning, however, in at least one Superior Court decision. In Commonwealth v. Smith, 552 A.2d 710 (Pa. Super. 1989), the defendant Smith was charged with perjury arising from his allegedly false testimony as a witness in an earlier criminal prosecution of another individual, a Mr. Miller, for a robbery of a taxi driver. In Smith’s perjury trial, the trial court permitted the prosecution to read into the record excerpts of the testimony from the prior robbery proceeding in which Smith had testified for the prosecution, but contradicted an earlier statement he had made identifying Miller as the person who had committed the robbery. Specifically, the officer, who had investigated the robbery, testified that Smith had identified Miller in a statement Smith had given to the officer and was permitted to read the testimony of Smith from the robbery trial in which Smith had changed his story and identified another, a Ms. Neely, as the robber. On cross-examination by Smith’s counsel, the officer also was permitted to read excerpts from the earlier trial testimony of Smith in which he had tried to explain the difference between his testimony and the earlier statement he had given to the investigating officer. Or re-direct examination, over defense objection, the prosecution then had the officer read further excerpts from Smith’s testimony at the Miller trial in which Smith acknowledged his prior criminal convictions of crimen falsi offenses. The defendant did not testify in the perjury trial.

On appeal, the Superior Court reversed, finding that, since the defendant had not testified at the perjury trial, his credibility was not placed in issue and the introduction of the impeaching evidence of his earlier prior convictions of crimes in the nature of crimen falsi, should not have been admitted. In so ruling, the Superior Court noted that where a defendant does not testify, his or her credibility is not at issue and there is no basis for allowance of any evidence to demonstrate his or her unreliability as a witness. Id. at 712. The Court further reasoned that where a witness is also the defendant in a criminal trial, additional protections attach when evidence of prior convictions is offered to impeach. Id.

2. Burglary is a crimen falsi offense. Commonwealth v. Randall, 528 A.2d 1326 (Pa. 1987).

Commonwealth v. Miller

As was the case in Smith (and as noted by Judge Olszewski's dissent), it was the defense counsel here who "opened the door" to such impeachment by his asking the investigating officer to confirm the earlier self-serving statements of the defendant during cross-examination. The question itself was objectionable since, if it is being offered to prove the truth of its content, i.e., that the defendant was not involved, it is clearly hearsay and not subject to any exception to permit its admission at the trial. The Commonwealth's attorney could have and should have objected (and, perhaps, the Court sua sponte should have disallowed the witness to answer) as the hearsay self-serving denial of involvement by the defendant should not have been admitted.

But is the denial of involvement, itself, a hearsay statement which would fall within the ambit of Pa.R.E. 806 in the first place? We think not. The lack of objection by the Commonwealth leaves a record devoid of the defendant's purpose for which the earlier denial was being offered into evidence. Was the purpose to prove the truth of the matter asserted by the defendant in his oral statement during questioning that he was not involved? Or was it being offered only to establish the fact that the statement had been made to the officer? If it was the latter, as it appeared to the Court under the circumstances of the testimony at that time of the trial, then it is not "a[n out-of-court] statement offered in evidence to prove the truth of the matter asserted," the definition of a hearsay statement. Pa.R.E. 801. If it was the former, then it should never have been admitted as it would then be hearsay, but not subject any exception or rule to allow its admission. Further, to deem such denials to be a hearsay declaration would, in essence, allow every defendant's prior record for crimes of falsehood to be admitted by the simple step of asking whether the defendant had denied involvement, even during the most preliminary phases of an investigation, in every case. We are sure that the police rarely hear an immediate and unconditional confession from every defendant upon first contact. Instead, we are reasonably certain from all of the other trials over which we've presided, that the defendant has often either completely denied involvement or, at the very least, has made some statement of fact regarding some material matter to the officer interviewing him or her. If Rule of Evidence 806 were to be read without regard to the distinction our courts have recognized between witnesses and criminal defendants, then any time such out-of-court denial or any out-of-court statement of any fact by a criminal defendant would allow the prosecution to then seek the admission of records of prior convictions to "attack the credibility" of such hearsay declarants in almost every trial. We do not believe that was the intention of the drafters of the rule nor do we believe that such an interpretation gives due recognition to a criminal defendant's special protections against being forced to testify and against being stripped of his presumption of innocence.³ The mere reference to an out-of-court "denial" such as was mentioned in this trial does not, we believe, constitute the kind of hearsay statement which places the defendant's credibility in issue and which, then, allows the attack on his credibility as Pa.R.E. 806 appears to provide.⁴ Thus, the introduction of evidence of Defendant's prior conviction was improper and we granted Defendant's motion for a mistrial.

On March 30, 2006, Defendant filed a Motion to Dismiss Criminal Information on Double Jeopardy Grounds, essentially claiming that the district attorney intentionally provoked a mistrial by eliciting improper testimony of Defendant's prior conviction for the purpose of gaining time to gather additional testimony, through use of Grand Jury proceedings, concerning the events which gave rise to the criminal prosecution of Defendant.⁵ Defendant asserted that the district attorney's conduct constituted prosecutorial misconduct and evidenced his intent to gain a tactical advantage in violation of the Double Jeopardy Clause. Therefore, Defendant requested that this Court bar re-trial of Defendant. Following the Commonwealth's response and upon review of the briefs submitted by both parties, the Court denied Defendant's Motion on April 24, 2006. Defendant filed a timely appeal averring that the Court erred in denying his Motion to Dismiss.

There are two types of prosecutorial misconduct which trigger double jeopardy and bar re-trial of the defendant. First, the double jeopardy clause of the Pennsylvania Constitution prohibits retrial of a defendant when the conduct of the prosecutor is intentionally undertaken to prejudice the defendant to the point of the denial of a fair trial.

3. Asking questions about a person's prior conviction carries with it the very distinct risk of a jury's confusion and a finding of guilt due to his prior crimes. See, Commonwealth v. Smith, 552 A.2d 710 (Pa. Super. 1989).

4. Taken to a logical but ludicrous extreme, the Commonwealth's argument would open the door to such prior conviction evidence simply by any proper witness's acknowledgment that the defendant had entered a plea of not guilty at arraignment.

5. Following our grant of the mistrial on February 7, 2006, First Assistant District Attorney Chardo submitted a notice to the supervising judge of the Grand Jury on February 13, 2006, that the matter was submitted to the Grand Jury, and the matter subsequently came before the Dauphin County Investigating Grand Jury. The witnesses subpoenaed included Defendant's grandmother, his cousin and the cousin's ex-girlfriend. The matter had not been placed before the Grand Jury at any time prior to Defendant's trial in February 2006.

Commonwealth v. Miller

Commonwealth v. Wood, 803 A.2d 217, 220-21 (Pa. Super. 2002) Second, retrial is also prohibited when the prosecutorial misconduct is intended to provoke the defendant into moving for a mistrial. Id.

Our Superior Court has explained when charges should be dismissed following a finding of prosecutorial misconduct:

Because of the compelling societal interest in prosecuting criminal defendants to conclusion, dismissal of charges is an extreme sanction that should be imposed sparingly and only in cases of blatant prosecutorial misconduct. Dismissal of criminal charges punishes not only the prosecutor but also the public at large, since the public has a reasonable expectation that those who have been charged with crimes will be fairly prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Thus, the sanction of dismissal of criminal charges should be utilized only in the most blatant cases.

Given the public policy goal of protecting the public from criminal conduct, a trial court should consider dismissal of charges where the actions of the Commonwealth are egregious and where demonstrable prejudice will be suffered by the defendant if the charges are not dismissed. The remedy of discharge without a fair and complete fact-finding procedure is extreme and will not be invoked absent deliberate bad faith prosecutorial misconduct. Dismissal of charges is appropriate only where prosecutorial misconduct is intended to provoke the defendant into moving for a mistrial, or where the conduct of the prosecutor is intentionally undertaken to prejudice the defendant to the point of the denial of a fair trial.

Commonwealth v. Burke, 781 A.2d 1136, 1145 (Pa. Super. 2001).

First, we believe that the prosecuting attorney did not commit prosecutorial misconduct when he sought to impeach Defendant's credibility on re-direct examination following the eliciting of a hearsay statement by the Defendant by Defendant's own attorney's questioning of a Commonwealth witness during cross-examination. Although we disagreed with the Commonwealth's position concerning the propriety of his questioning that same witness concerning Defendant's prior criminal record, we do not believe that the action of the district attorney was intended to provoke a mistrial. The case law is sparse on the underlying evidentiary issue and Pennsylvania Rules of Evidence 806 lends itself to a possible interpretation as asserted by the Commonwealth's attorney.

Commonwealth v. Miller

Additionally, it was counsel for Defendant who arguably “opened the door” by extracting the Defendant’s own hearsay statement of denial of involvement in the arson during his cross-examination of the Commonwealth’s witness. Furthermore, the Commonwealth’s attorney’s decision to place the matter before the Grand Jury for the first time following the mistrial does not, in and of itself, relate back to his conduct at trial, nor have we found any evidence in the record before us of any preconceived plan by the district attorney to prevent Defendant from receiving a fair trial.

Second, even assuming, arguendo, prosecutorial misconduct had occurred, any such conduct was not sufficiently blatant, nor do we find any evidence of the kind of “bad faith” required to warrant dismissal of Defendant’s criminal charges. Again, the underlying issue giving rise to the instant appeals has not been specifically addressed by any appellate court. A cursory reading of Pennsylvania Rule of Evidence 806 arguably supports the Commonwealth’s position. If the law were well settled on this issue, we might be more inclined to question the motives of the district attorney; however, without a clear, precedential appellate court decision contrary to the position espoused by the Commonwealth, we cannot conclude that the district attorney’s conduct amounted to the blatant and bad faith prosecutorial misconduct meriting dismissal of the criminal charges against Defendant.

1. The initial bid must equal the fixed upset price. If the taxes for the current year are not included in the upset price, the purchaser must pay the taxes for the current year to the local collector. In addition to the upset price, the purchaser must pay the 2% State Realty Transfer Tax, calculated in accordance with applicable valuation regulations, and the recording fee. These items will be computed after the property has been struck down to the successful bidder. The upset price, the transfer tax and the recording fee MUST BE PAID AT THE SAME TIME. At the option of the Tax Claim Bureau the purchaser shall pay either by cash, or check drawn to the order of the Tax Claim Bureau.

2. All listed sales are subject to prior redemption by the owner and to confirmation by the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania.

3. The Tax Claim Bureau will issue a deed to the registered bidder upon confirmation of the sale by the Court of Common Pleas. In the event the registered bidder elects to have the deed issued in the name of a nominee or assignee, the registered bidder must provide written authorization from the nominee or assignee to act as his, her, or its agent. The deed will not contain any warranty of title. Approximately THREE MONTHS TIME FROM THE DATE OF THE SEPTEMBER 18, 2006 sale is required before the deed will be delivered to the purchaser.

4. The Bureau will sell the property as described on the dockets in the Tax Claim Bureau, and makes no representation or warranty as to description.

5. All properties are sold under and by virtue of the Act of 1947, P.L. 1368, as amended, known as the "REAL ESTATE TAX SALE LAW." All titles transferred by the Tax Claim Bureau are under and subject to said Act, including but not limited to the divestiture of liens provisions of the Act.

6. NO property scheduled for sale will be struck down unless the bid equals or exceeds the upset sale price as announced. In the event of a dispute by bidders, or failure of the successful bidder to pay the purchase price the property will again be put up for sale. Payment for all properties sold between 6 P.M. and the close of the first session must be paid immediately after the last property is struck down or the property will again be put up for sale. CHECKS RECEIVED FOR PAYMENT OF TAXES BY THE TAXPAYER OR OTHER INTERESTED PARTY AS DEFINED BY THE ACT WHICH ARE POSTMARKED PRIOR TO THE DATE OF THE SALE WILL TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER A SALE OF THE PROPERTY.

7. The Tax Claim Bureau will sell subject to the existing occupancy if any. This sale does NOT INCLUDE THE CONTENTS.

8. All properties sold are under and subject to the payment of recording fees, transfer taxes, and municipal or governmental claims not paid out of the sale price, and any other lien not divested by the sale.

9. NO SALE SHALL BE CANCELED AND MONEY RETURNED TO THE PURCHASER. MAKE SURE OF WHAT YOU ARE BUYING BEFORE THE BIDDING. CHECK ALL PARCELS AND ADDRESSES FIRST.

10. Any successful bidder who fails to provide the certification required by Act 133, P.L. 1368, No. 542, enacted December 21, 1998, in conjunction with this tax sale may be prohibited from registering for any future tax sales conducted by the Dauphin County Tax Claim Bureau.

11. All banks upon which bid checks are drawn are contacted before deposit by the Tax Claim Bureau. Insufficient funds or stop payments may be turned over to the District Attorney's Office for appropriate action. The Bureau maintains a list of those persons whose checks were not honored by their lending institution, and they will not be permitted to register at any future tax sale conducted by the Dauphin County Tax Claim Bureau.

12. The upset sale will be held in the second floor Main Ball Room of the Crowne Plaza Hotel at 23 South Second Street, Harrisburg. Registration of bidders will begin at 3 PM.

Summary of Verdicts from the May 2006 Civil Jury Term

The Judges have completed the May 2006 civil jury term. A total of eight cases reached verdict and their summaries are as follows:

RAFAELA A. MELENDEZ and AUREA CARABALLO AS CO-ADMINISTRATORS OF THE ESTATE OF CARMEN ANDUJAR, DECEASED v. PINNACLE HEALTH HOSPITALS, INDIVIDUALLY and/or TRADING AS PINNACLE HEALTH AT HARRISBURG HOSPITAL and/or TRADING AS HARRISBURG HOSPITAL, PINNACLE HEALTH AT HARRISBURG HOSPITAL, INDIVIDUALLY and/or TRADING AS HARRISBURG HOSPITAL, HARRISBURG HOSPITAL, JOSEPH R. Decedent was diagnosed with end stage renal failure and was started on dialysis.

When her dialysis catheter became blocked, she went to Holy Spirit for a new catheter. Later that same day, after the family noticed bleeding from the new catheter site, decedent was taken to Harrisburg Hospital ER. Over the next several hours, decedent was evaluated by several doctors in the emergency department. Decedent's condition deteriorated during her hospitalization and she died on March 11, 2001.
